

Good
Brows
Take Time ♡

LEXYBROWS

MICROBLADING/POWDER Healing Guide

THE HEALING JOURNEY WHAT TO EXPECT EACH STEP OF THE WAY

DAY 1-2

I LOVE THEM!

Color is 20-40% darker than it will look healed. Strokes are more crisp. Mild swelling, redness, (bruising if any) and discomfort will subside. Apply a small layer of Aquaphor and avoid touching. Keep area dry for the first 48 hours (longer the better!).

DAY 3-7

WHAT'S HAPPENING?!

Outer skin healing and exfoliation begins as the top layers of skin shed, causing excess pigment to flake away. It's completely normal to see peeling and some areas look patchy. Do not pick at the peeling skin or scabs. If it itches, tap lightly around the area (don't scratch). Color may appear gray.

DAY 8-10

WHERE DID MY BROWS GO?!

Flaking is in its final stages. Color may look gray, light or spotty in some cases. This is temporary as colors disappear to reappear later. Continue applying balm until day 14 or until all scabs peel off.

DAY 11-14+

THEY'RE COMING BACK!

Skin begins to take on normal characteristics again. Inner skin healing begins and color starts to return after disappearing. Color and strokes continue to soften.

Your brows will fade 20-40% from the initial session, and will also shrink a little in size.

AFTER CARE

Apply Aquaphor 1-2 times daily for the first 14 days with a clean cotton swab. (Only a small layer is needed! Think of a grain of rice on each side — very little!)

Do not get eyebrows wet during the first 48 hours after the procedure (longer the better).

Important things to keep in mind:

- Do NOT pick, peel or scratch off the pigment/scabs during healing. Let it fall out on its own!
- Keep your face away from the shower head. Gently dab/pat face dry and reapply Aquaphor.
- It is recommended not to sweat (heavily) for the first 10 days after the procedure. Sweat is salt and can prematurely fade the treated area.
- Avoid excessive sun exposure, swimming, saunas, hot tubs, jacuzzis, sun tanning or salon tanning while healing.

NEED A LITTLE MORE?

If you feel you need a perfection session to fill in any areas or darken the color, text me once your brows are fully healed (14 days) to schedule an appointment.

$75

BEFORE 10 WEEKS

*Be Patient
Beautiful Things
Take Time ♡*

LEXYBROWS

